Rule Summary

The university's core is its faculty, upon which knowledge creation, student learning, and constructive progress are built. As such, the interests of our students, administrators, staff, and faculty are best served when the faculty brings its special talents to bear through service in an advisory capacity to the President on matters directly related to the academic programs of East Texas A&M University (University).

On this premise, this rule is presented to foster a community of mutual respect and cooperation within the University to facilitate effective faculty participation in academic programs, to broaden communication in matters of concern to the University, and to engage the faculty's skills in the guidance of university programs. As per the Development and Maintenance of University Rules and Procedures (01.01.01.R0.02), the Faculty Advisory Council (Council) works closely to provide advice to the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and the Deans Council to develop and review all academic policies and procedures affecting faculty.

This Faculty Advisory Council is established under the authority of The Texas A&M University System (A&M System) Policy 12.04, Faculty Advisory Council.

Functions

The Council, as an advising and recommending body, will report to the President of East Texas A&M University (University President) or the president's designee. C. Forum

The Council must be a forum for discussion and debate of any issue directly related to the academic programs of the University for which the Council has authority to advise University leadership. As a representative body, the Council will gather faculty concerns on matters eligible to be considered by the Council and transmit those concerns to the appropriate person.

D. Reporting

The Council must publish the minutes of its meetings on the Council webpage. Council members are charged with the responsibility of delivering the necessary information to their respective departments.
